Handwritten musical notation on aged paper. The title is "Alone in Woods & Mounds (See Page 1) 23". The lyrics are "Alone in woods & mounds, in these hours." Below it is another piece: "Though Humble the Dammit, in: Farrell Lennon." The lyrics are "Though humble the dammit, in: Farrell Lennon." At the bottom, there is a note: "Some in comment) the smokes, I had thought that this was the spirit which we call the deprechain, but a high authority upon such subjects, Gady Morgan in a note upon his National and interesting novel (Donnell), has given a very different account of that bottle." There are handwritten annotations like "Merrily", "More on spirit", and "in: Farrell Lennon" throughout the score.
